BANK ROBBERY / MURDER

Remarks: During the crime, both a revolver handgun and a sawed-off shotgun were used.

CAUTION

On August 12, 2003, at approximately 9:45 a.m., a male subject entered the Xerox Federal Credit Union located in Webster, New York. The male was wearing a dark blue nylon jacket with the letters "FBI" written in yellow on the back and on the sleeves. The male also wore a blue bulletproof vest as well as a "United States Marshals Service" style badge around his neck. He was wearing dark-colored sunglasses and a poorly fitting afro-style wig. After encountering some resistance from an employee, the subject removed two firearms from a large briefcase. During the course of the robbery, the subject shot two patrons, killing one and severely injuring another. After obtaining an undisclosed amount of money, the subject fled the Credit Union.

The subject is described as a Black male, approximately 6'0" tall, medium build, weighing approximately 180 to 200 pounds. The subject's approximate age at the time of the robbery was 30 to 35 years of age. His current age would be approximately 43 to 48 years of age.
